

The breakfast bar is not dead – this one seats three and works beautifully in the open, L-shaped area.

Notice the careful contrast between the Calacatta marble benchtop and the Laminex veneer in Allure Oak.

KEY ATTRIBUTES

- Doors Cabinet doors and panels finished in Dulux Vivid White satin polyurethane
- Island panels Laminex veneer in Allure Oak with sandblasted finish
- Internal hardware Blum Tandembox with soft-close drawers
- Benchtop 70mm Calacatta marble
- Splashback Glass in Vivid White
- Handles Client supplied
- Kickboards Brushed aluminium

APPLIANCES

- Oven ILVE underbench
- ILVE induction cooktop
- Rangehood ILVE
- Dishwasher Miele semi-integrated

STYLISH CONTRASTS

Turn a blank space into the talking point of your home

When the owners of this gorgeous new Sydney home embarked on a total house renovation, they began with a blank canvas for the kitchen. The brief to designer Sue Terley from A-Plan Kitchens was to create a simple but elegant kitchen that would fit seamlessly into a large living/dining space while accommodating a pantry and laundry behind.

The finished result exceeded the brief – it's a stunning example of Australia's indoor/outdoor lifestyle.

The new kitchen is the perfect space to entertain family and friends; it has every amenity for the preparation of daily meals or the demands of the most extravagant dinner party and it draws the eye to an inviting outdoor area featuring a sparkling pool, patio with barbecue and beautiful landscaped garden.

In keeping with the brief, the L-shaped design with island bench provides ample space for food preparation and a breakfast bar to seat three. A striking feature is the 70mm Calacatta marble benchtop on all surface areas while the use of Laminex veneer in Allure Oak on the sides and back of the island provides a stylish contrast. Three elegant ZTwo lighting pendants above the island add a masterful finishing touch.

The storage demands of the household are more than met by 1200mm-wide underbench drawers, floor-to-ceiling cupboards in the kitchen and adjoining laundry and open shelves in the walk-in pantry. All appliances are fully integrated with easy access to the dishwasher, cooktop, microwave and fridge.

Far from a blank canvas, the new kitchen has become the focal point of the house. It's a place to share breakfast with the family, to rustle up a snack on the way to the pool and to entertain in style throughout the year. KBQ

Designer details

The kitchen was designed by Sue Terley and built by A-Plan Kitchens

Address 208 Parramatta Road, Camperdown NSW 2050

Phone (02) 9516 3611

Website www.aplan.com.au

We love the ZTwo light pendants

EXPERT TIP

Bumping up the storage capacity helps keep a kitchen clean and clutter-free.

